PROJECTS

Orksy | (Flask, SQLAlchemy, React/Redux)

Live Site | Github

Orksy is a full-stack e-commerce web application designed to emulate popular site Etsy.

- Employed Python's Boto3 AWS SDK to implement a backend route for storing images in Amazon's S3 Bucket service, allowing users to upload image files for safe, persistent storage in the Cloud.
- Incorporated programmatic logic with Date objects to simulate variability of shipping dates and costs.
- Designed custom animations using CSS and JS to add interactive dropdown boxes to view product descriptions and estimated shipping speeds.

Travel-Inn | (Express.js, Sequelize, React/Redux, Node.js)

Live Site | Github

Travel-Inn is a full-stack web application inspired by Airbnb.

- Leveraged knowledge of React with Redux for frontend state management to provide scalability and improve efficiency via data normalization.
- Devised extensive custom backend validation checks to guarantee accurate availability of booking dates and provide specific user feedback.
- Incorporated calls to Google Maps Javascript and Geocoding APIs to convert user-provided addresses into geographic coordinates for displaying approximate locations in real-time.

Solarium | (React, HTML/CSS)

Live Site | Github

Solarium is a static web app for viewing information on our solar system and the planets.

- Employed CSS calc function to design responsive, to-scale representations of relative planetary orbital speeds, size and distance from Sun.
- Utilized reports from Chrome DevTools' Lighthouse audit tool to optimize website performance, achieving perfect scores of 100 in SEO, best practices, and accessibility.

EXPERIENCE

BITE New York

New York, NY

Back-of-House Captain

May 2021 – June 2022

- Directed teams of flexible size (2 to 100+) to adapt to individual needs and challenges of hundreds of events, from small cocktail parties to multiple-course sit-down dinners.
- Oversaw proper collection, setup, maintenance and breakdown of rental equipment for events of up to 1000 guests, ranging from delicate china to industrial kitchen appliances.
- Trained new employees in back-of-house protocols to facilitate fully self-service sanitation and storage stations for handling large volumes of used rentals.

Creative Edge Parties

New York, NY

Venue Manager

March 2018 - December 2021

- Managed all aspects of high-end event space in downtown Manhattan, ensuring delivery schedules were followed, client needs met, and building safety standards complied with.
- Fostered positive relationships with clients, resulting in over a dozen lasting partnerships emerging out of originally one-off events.
